

StoredIQ Professional Services Overview

Overview

StoredIQ Professional Services offer customers a complete set of service-based solutions throughout the StoredIQ product lifecycle. These services enable customers to understand, implement, and utilize StoredIQ technologies in the best possible manner. Individual StoredIQ Professional Services offerings fall into one of four phases of the product lifecycle: Evaluation, Deployment, Maintenance, and Education.

Evaluation^{IQ} Services offer a comprehensive assessment of enterprise environments, culminating in an information management design tuned for specific IT infrastructures. Evaluation^{IQ} Services provide an introduction to StoredIQ's technologies which includes an on-site, extended demonstration of StoredIQ products.

Conducted by seasoned engineers, Deployment^{IQ} Services ensure a successful implementation of StoredIQ products on-site using a thorough and proven process that includes planning, installation, configuration and training for StoredIQ users.

After StoredIQ solutions are deployed, Maintenance^{IQ} Services guarantee a quality experience with exceptional technical support, as well as periodic checkups. For organizations without the appropriate IT, Legal, and business expertise in-house, StoredIQ can fully administer their information management and eDiscovery processes on their behalf.

A full suite of training classes and workshops are available through Education^{IQ} Services. With a range of depth, the material enables the most efficient and productive use of StoredIQ products. Varying levels and types of formal StoredIQ certifications are presented in conjunction with classes, and training can be delivered to the client on-site, hosted at StoredIQ, or online.
